Dear Mr. Huff:

Your recent letter that was addressed to our Wilmington, Delaware offices, regarding a bolt lock safety on the Model 700 rifle, has been referred to this office for response.

All Model 700 rifles produced after 1981 do not have the "bolt-lock" feature, i.e. the bolts can be raised with the safety in the "on-safe" position. Older Model 700 rifles do lock the bolt with the safety on.

The bolt-lock was eliminated based on the results of an independent marketing survey in which a greater percentage of the shooters felt it was not a necessary feature and preferred the capability of opening the bolt with the safety on.

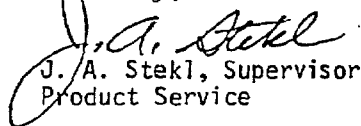

If you decide to purchase a Model 700 "Mountain" rifle, we can install the necessary part at a charge of $15.00 to cover part, installation and testing. If you desire, please send the rifle via insured U.P.S. to:

Remington Arms Co., Inc.,

In addition, please print "STEKL" on both butt ends of the shipping box in bold letters.

Thank you for your interest in Remington products and for affording us the opportunity to be of service to you.

Sincerely,
