Enclosed you will find my Rem. Model 700 30.06 which over the years since I purchased it HAS discharged while I was in the process of unloading it.

Basically I remove the safe and bolt out the four unfired bullets. Four or five times since I have owned the rifle it has accidentally discharged.

At first I thought it might be me who was causing the problem. When thinking about these mishaps I can't imagine how I could be touching the trigger while my right hand is clasping the bolt.

Then I happened across the "60 min^{TV}" program explaining how some Rem. Rifles (bolt Action Model 700) were discharging accidentally.

The next day I called 302 774-5048 and explained my problem. The lady took my name address and phone No# After two months, I called again and was referred to a lady whose name was Donna. She told me to pack my rifle and send to this address.

I hope you can repair or guarantee that this will NOT happen to me again.
