Dear Sir:

I am sending the barrel of my Remington 700BDL Rifle for either repair or replacement of the firing mechanism. I have taken it to several reputable gun smith's here in Baltimore and none of them can seem to find out what is causing the problem.

The gun seems to discharge automatically and I am afraid that someone is going to be hurt or killed. As soon as you cock it it will fire without pulling the trigger. At first it happened only occasionally, but now it seems to go off constantly for no reason. Could you please check it and see if you can find out what is causing this to happen. I really like the gun and use it for deer hunting every year but now I'm afraid to use it because if it goes off prematurely it may cause an accident.

I would like to be able to use it for this deer season if possible. So an early response would be appreciated.

Thankyou
