11/29/10 Per call from Allen, he bought his 710 new about 3-4 years ago. He said it fires without touching the trigger. The first time it happened he was sitting in the blind and had the rifle against his leg, he grabbed it and it fired. He said his hand was not at the trigger. He has since "played" with it and put a shell in it, and it has happened again without touching the trigger after he continued to "play with it". He only hunted with it 4 times and didn't use it at all last year.cm
