Dear Mr. Folsom,

Enclosed is a prepaid UPS shipping label to cover shipment of your firearm to our factory for examination.

Please include a copy of this letter to put inside the shipping container. The letter inside is important as sometimes the outside label gets damaged in transit and we want to be sure the firearm is logged in correctly. Mark the ends of the box with "Product Service". Product Service will be inspecting the firearm and will contact me with the results.

I hope that this action will keep you a loyal Remington, H&R customer.

Sincerely,
D. Fulcher

November 23, 2010

Ref: # 5096

Remington Arms Co.
14 Hoefler Ave.
Ilion, NY 13357

On August 18, 2010, I purchased a Remington 700 SPS (DM) rifle, serial number D6641057 in 30.06 caliber from my local gun dealer. A short time later, I mounted a Leupold scope on the rifle and began to site the in rifle for Missouri deer season. I have fired approximately 100 rounds or less through the rifle. I have not in any way altered the trigger system in the rifle. I did however adjust the x-mark trigger adjustment screw approximately one half turn to lighten the trigger pull as directed in the information that came with the rifle using the Allen wrench that was provided by Remington. Also, I have also cleaned the rifle several times since I purchased it.

On November 11, 2010, while hunting during Missouri deer season, I - with all of my fingers outside of the trigger guard and nothing touching the trigger itself- utilized my right thumb to switch the rifle's safety switch from safety to fire as a deer approached. I clicked the safety switch hard and did not ride the safety switch forward at all with my thumb. Immediately upon clicking the safety switch to fire, the rifle discharged causing the rear of the metal trigger guard of the rifle to suddenly strike the middle of my right trigger finger, which was quite painful. Additionally this also let me know with 100 percent assurance that no part of my finger was inside of the trigger guard at any time when I utilized the safety switch. There is no amount of words that can accurately describe the shock I was in when I realized the rifle had actually discharged a round. It should be noted, that I was practicing good firearms safety by always keeping the muzzle pointed in a safe direction when the rifle unexpectedly discharged and fortunately, since I was no one seriously injured or killed.

On November 13, 2010, I contacted your company and I was assisted by a polite customer service representative. Once I explained the incident, I was told that I would receive a prepaid shipping label to ship the rifle back to Remington for inspection/service by your company, which would perhaps include a trigger replacement. I have thought about this and I feel that I cannot accept this rifle back from your company in good conscience. Nor can I ever sell or trade it to another person in light of what I know occurred the day the rifle discharged when the safety was de-activated. I informed your representative of my feelings and I was told that I would have to write a letter explaining the incident wherein I specifically needed to indicate that I wanted a refund for the recently purchased rifle due to this incident. I was also informed that I would also need to include and a copy of the sales receipt where I had purchased the rifle, and upon receipt of the rifle by Remington, I would be refunded the full purchase price.

I have boxed up the rifle and filled out all of your required paperwork (reference # 5096) as requested. I am returning the rifle as directed and respectfully request that I be refunded the full amount of $614.71 that I recently spent for the purchase of the rifle. I have also included a copy of the sales receipt as you requested. I have included my contact information below and I would be happy to discuss this incident or the return of this unsafe rifle with anyone from your company.

Sincerely,

Henry James Folsom
