This is my Dad's rifle that I was talking to you about. It is a Remington 700 BDL in 7mm Rem Mag and is serial number: A6499300. This is one of the models that you have to push the safety to fire to load/unload the rifle. It has fired about 4 times over the years by just taking it off safety. I believe there is a recall on this bolt so he is wanting to get it fixed.

Please give me a call at Farris Brothers if you have any questions. You can reach me at (601) 264-8444 #113 or dan@farrisbrothers.com.

Please return the gun to:

Gun was produced on 9/20/1977 and originally shipped to Sports South in Shrevport, Louisiana
Shipping label should be good via UPS.

I will ask Christy to keep an eye out for it to arrive.

Christy,
Please see me...

Danny,

The rifle is a Remington 700 BDL in 7mm Rem Mag. The serial number is A6499300. I know the gun is old since he has had it since I was a kid. I would like to know what year it is if you run the serial number. I can probably find a shipping box of some kind to ship it in. I still have the UPS label from Christy so it should still be good. Please let me know if it needs to go to another address since this is a recall issue.

Thanks for your help,
Dan Henderson

Dan,
Send me the serial # to the gun and I will see that it gets taken care of.

We generally suggest not sending in hard cases, as they frequently get damaged in transit & customers look to us to cover those damages.

If you have a std firearms box that is the preferred shipping container.
