While in Bridgeport Friday, Mr. Warden asked us to let him know about what it would cost to supply the M/721 & 722 with the new safety such as on M/725, together with M/725 style of hinged floor plate. Obviously this would involve the complete M/725 trigger guard casting and magazine latch, etc.. Also, for the safety, it would involve adding a clearance cut in the grip of the stock.

My guess to him was that it would amount to about $5 more to be added to the retail price, but told him would have you check and advise him more definitely. How far off am I?
