Dear Clark,

Long time no see or been in touch. Hope the big freeze over there didn't give you icicles in any embarrassing places. I didn't get over to America last year and spent all of september touring West Germany and doing some hunting there. Hope to get back over there this year though.

My reason for writing is to tell you that I am doing a little project with my Remington Mohawk .308. I have fitted one of the excellent bolt releases made by Chet Brown at Los Molinos, Calif and have written him for a fibreglass stock for it. I intend making up an ultra-light deer rifle for the mountains by turning down the barrel a bit and fitting the fibreglass stock. I will use Conetrol mounts and it already has a Burris Mini-scope. I want all -up weight down to about 6lb at most.

C15281 However, I want to fit a Remington Model 700 bolt handle and Model 700 ADL trigger guard. Can you get hold of these and airmail them over for me. I could have asked Ted MC Cawley or Dick Dietz but thought it more in your dept. Chet Brown mills off about 14oz when turning down the Mohawk barrels for his Ultra-Light or Super Light rifles but I may not go quite as slim as this as I want the gun to shoot accurately still. I saw a couple of these rifles at Fred Huntingtons Sportsmans Store at Oroville while I was there and they are light as a feather.

Les Bowman still writes regularly but didn't mention whether he went to the Remington seminar last year or not. He did say that Elmer Keith was very ill in Salmon Idaho and in a coma. I hope he recovered O.K as he is a real character.

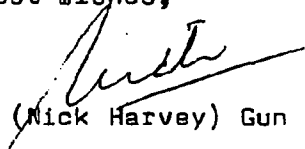

I just did a write-up of your new Models Six and Four. The accuracy of that slide-action sure surprised me. It is darned accurate and I knocked off some roos with it at real long range.

Anyhow, keep your powder dry and keep a bottle of bourbon handy in case I drop in.
Sure appreciate it if you can send me those two items.
They are light so air-mail if you can manage it.

Give my regards to Ted and Dick.

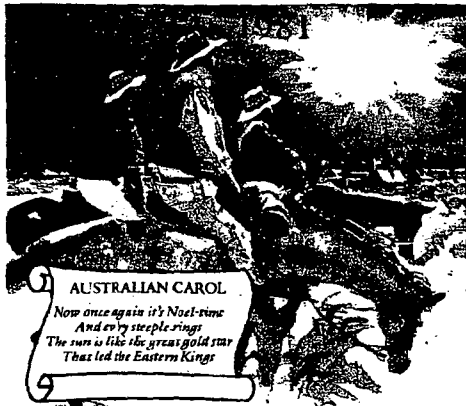

Best Wishes,

(Nick Harvey) Gun Editor
