
From: Spees, John
Sent: Thursday, September 20, 2007 8:27 PM
To: Pantle, Robert
Subject: FBI, sniper rifle

Bob, per my conversation w/ Buford Boone, FBI Ballistic Research Unit, he said Remington's 700 sniper rifle was the best rifle on the market. The problem they have with it is the aluminum floorplate & trigger guard. He said if we installed those w/ steel, we would have a sure winner. He told me about 1 guy, at the Academy, who actually broke his while using the torque wrench. This should be an easy fix for our engineering dept. & could win us a contract for future rifles.

John B. Spees
Remington Arms Company, Inc.
Federal LE Sales Manager
864/607-0992
6 Woodstone Drive
Simpsonville, SC 29681
john.spees@remington.com