Hello Julie,

I have attached a Product Brief on all 2008 NEW products for Spring (this should be a good alternative to the presentation since we couldn't work that in to the schedule). This should provide plenty of information on all of the new products and with the Catalog coming out next week, should get your team up to date on our line-up for spring. We will be doing the full-boat presentation on 2008 new products in a month or so, and these will of course be included in that presentation. Let me know if you need anything else.

Thanks,

Brian
