Back By Popular Demand Remington® Model 700™ Sendero® SF™ Returns to Specialty Rifle Line-Up

Madison, NC – With the overwhelming response to the absence of a heavy barreled, magnum bolt action rifle, Remington is proud to re-introduce the Model 700 Sendero in an updated version for 2006. The Model 700 Sendero SF II will be offered in five hard-hitting, flat-shooting magnum calibers including .264 Win Mag (a reintroduction to Model 700 chamberings), 7mm Rem Mag, .300 Win Mag, 7mm Rem Ultra Mag and .300 Rem Ultra Mag.

Following on the successful launch of the upgraded VS™ (Varmint Synthetic) line last year, the Model 700 Sendero SF II wears a similarly redesigned H.S. Precision black composite stock, distinctive with its gray webbed finish. The addition of a full length aluminum bedding block provides rigid action support for consistent shot placement. An enhanced grip with ambidextrous palm swell and dual swivel studs on the fore-end for the easy attachment of sling and bipod are also incorporated in the redesign.

The varmint style, heavy contour 26-inch barrel is constructed of 416 stainless steel with concave target-style crown and features six longitudinal flutes. Both the solid steel receiver and hammer-forged, fluted barrel have a spin polished finish. The heat-dissipating flutes are accented with a black powder-coat finish. Completing this Model 700 is a hinged floorplate magazine with three plus one capacity and receiver drilled and tapped for scope mounts.

At the core of the Sendero is the legendary performance of the Model 700 bolt action platform. Crisp trigger, exceptionally fast lock time and rigid cylindrical receiver design further enhance this Model 700 rifle's accuracy.

For the dedicated long-range hunter or precision shooter, the redesigned Model 700 Sendero SF II is the ideal high performance, bolt action rifle. Available at a suggested retail price of $1085.
