To whom it may concern,

I am writing this letter regarding an incident that happened to me while on a deer hunting trip in Maine five years ago this month.

My model 700 C270 Cal.BDL accidentally fired as I was climbing up my tree stand. I know for a fact that my safety was on. I did bump the bolt, however, I did not touch the trigger.

Enclosed is a copy of an article I found in our local paper. I called this person and eventually they have a law suit against your company concerning the death of a young boy from an accidental firing of this particular model rifle.

Yours Truly,

Robert Farley
