Dear Mr. Green:

We are sending to you under separate cover a Model 700 BDL in .243 caliber. This gun has a defective safety mechanism. You will quickly note that as a round is chambered and the gun is placed on "safe", when pointed below the horizontal and the gun is then taken off safe, the gun fires! If the same procedure is followed and the gun is pointed above the horizontal, nothing happens.

Please repair or replace this rifle and test fire it before returning it. Please return it to the address listed above to my attention.

Needless to say, this is a very dangerous situation so we need your assurance that the gun will function properly when it's returned.

Best personal regards,

E. J. Ruffing
