

Dear Remington, ^{Letter #1} 11/7/70

REMINGTON, INC.

I purchased a Remington 30-06 BBL about six years ago and up until last year had no problems with it. But last year while sighting it in for deer hunting, it would hesitate before it would fire. I thought I got a bad box of shells (Remington 180gr soft pt.).

1991

This year sighting it in it happened ~~again~~ once more using the same type of shells.

(different box). So this year deer season I used Federal Premium.

I shot at a doe and when I pulled the trigger nothing happened so I raised the rifle to see if it was still on the safe position, but it wasn't.

Then it did go off without pulling the trigger scaring me to death and the doe.
