While in Bridgeport Friday, Mr. Warden asked us to let him know about what it would cost to supply the N/721 & 722 with the new safety such as on N/725, together with N/725 style of hinged floor plate. Obviously this would involve the complete N/725 trigger guard casting and magazine latch, etc.. Also, for the safety, it would involve adding a clearance cut in the grip of the stock.

My guess to him was that it would amount to about $5 more to be added to the retail price, but told him would have you check and advise him more definitely. How far off am I? you check and advise him more definitely. How far off am I?
