Dear Mr. Leek:

I have been shooting the little 600 and I am delighted with it. Conditions have not been just right for a real precision exercise as yet, but I printed one group of five at our zero range (240 yards) that went into $4\frac{1}{2}$ ", which I think is very satisfactory. A magnum-weight barrel, such as you suggested, might do better, but I doubt if the deer would notice.

I must say again that this rifle, sight and cartridge combination seems to me to be the neatest and most versatile hunting weapon I have encountered in years. With it and my semi-bull-gun .375, I just don't need any other rifles.

Many, many thanks for your kind attention in this matter. I plan to be in Ilion on Friday the ninth of September. I hope to be able to visit you and express my gratification in person.

Very truly yours,

Jeff Cooper
