Dear Mr. Trexler:

Thank you for your phone call today re your magazine conversion for the M/700 Rifle.

As I mentioned to you on the phone, our production figures for our firearms are confidential information which we are not at liberty to disclose to anyone.

If you have any specific proposal or question which requires our technical people to consider a design of yours, we must have an understanding between us before we can transmit your design to our design group. Specifically, Remington cannot accept any information from persons outside the Company on a confidential basis. If you agree that anything you send us is not to be considered as confidential by Remington and that you will make no claim against Remington unless it is a claim for patent infringement, we can consider your question, comments, or suggestions. Your acceptance of these conditions may be indicated by signing the copy of this letter, and returning it to me along with the information or question that you wish to bring to our attention.

Very truly yours,

N. Skovran
