

The bolt handle and cocking cam surface appear to be one piece and are pressed and pinned to the bolt body. The bolt head, smaller in diameter than the bolt body, is assembled in the same manner. (Photo #4)

