Mike, I don't know if Jim Rabbia has had a chance to advise you that we have also scheduled TRT/Oneida to meet with you at 3PM, which should give you enough time for your return flight. They have given an advantage in that they commit to 1st shot samples by April 15th, our experience being they have not missed tool dates in the past. Their piece is $.39ea vs $.37ea (both using Chemlon material, at this point for comparative purposes) they are still working to bring their price to $.37; They are matching tool cost of Hanson.
