

About 9 years I bought a Model 600 in 6mm Remington. This rifle has a 2x6 rif...

Discussion Thread

Response (Laura)

11/5/2002 10:50:45 AM

Dear Mr. Robles,

Thank you for your inquiry. We can check your firearm for function and safety at any Remington Authorized Repair center or our factory. We also want to make you aware of a recall on some of these rifles. You can find complete details regarding this recall as well as instructions on sending the firearm to us through the front page of our website or through the following link:

http://www.remington.com/safety_modification_program/600_660.htm

Customer (Luis Robles)

10/30/2002 1:04:39 PM

About 9 years I bought a Model 600 in 6mm Remington. This rifle has a 2x6 rifle stock and what appears to be a spoon for a trigger. I wanted to see if I could send it to you and get it checked for safety purposes. I plan on changing the stock and trigger later. I have never fired this rifle. It appears the stock and trigger were made by its previous owner. I dried fired it once and the trigger did go off. Thanks Luis Robles in Del Rio, Texas.