John,
Are we sure that the fire controls in the cribs have been gone thru 100%? If not we will be chasing our tails forever.

Bob,

I appreciate your input, but this is not just about this isolated incident. I had asked Jerry yesterday to reconvene the group to discuss where we are with regard to the trigger pull issues we have been experiencing. As you no doubt remember, before leaving for S&K, we were struggling to get consistent trigger pulls at final assembly. We may have made some progress, but we are not there yet.

Thanks.

John
