700 with bolt lock, not recalled.

Thank you for contacting Remington Country. Your Model 700 was produced in 1973. Your firearm has not been involved in a recall. Your rifle was originally installed with a bolt-lock, which means you have to put the safety switch on fire before you can open the bolt. We are offering a conversion at a special price if you would like your firearm converted so that you can open the bolt at anytime with the safety on safe. To view more details regarding this modification, go to:

http://www.remington.com/Safety_Modification_Program/remington_safety.htm

The Model 700 bolt action rifle has been one of America's premier hunting rifles for 42 years. Over 4 million of these rifles have been sold to hunters, target shooters and law enforcement agencies across the US. When used following the rules of safe gun handling, including proper maintenance, and not inappropriately altered, the Remington Model 700 is a safe rifle.

If you or someone you know is having a Remington rifle fire when the safety is removed, the firearm should be sent to Remington for evaluation. We can send a pre-paid UPS ground shipping label if there is a concern with shipping fees.

For U.S. repairs, please follow these guidelines:

1. Record the serial number of your firearm before sending it to us.
2. Pack your firearm for safety and to prevent further damage in shipping and handling. Preferably, ship in a firearm box, not a hardcase.
3. Remove all accessories from your firearm to prevent loss or damage. This would include scope, slings, or extra choke tubes.
4. Enclose a letter with the firearm detailing the model name or number of your firearm and serial number along with a full description of the problem. Be sure to include your full name and address (P.O. Box and Street Address), including zip code, daytime telephone number, and e-mail address.
5. Ship your firearm by either United Parcel Service (UPS) or Parcel Post (US Post Office). Remington is not responsible for damage or loss during shipment, so you may elect to purchase insurance from your carrier. Customer is responsible for shipping charges to the factory.

For U.S. repairs only, ship to:

Thank you for your inquiry, and welcome to Remington Country! Your patch is coming out "dirty" because of copper residues. In centerfire rifles, these residues, created by copper jacketed ammunition, become chemically bonded to the bore. We test the barrels before they leave the factory. By running a patch with copper (bore) solvent applied, you will always end up with a dirty patch. However, this will have no effect on the performance of your rifle.
