I have a .243 model 600 that my father purchased new for me in the 1960's.

I would like to send it for the trigger/safety rework you offer. However, I hunted with it and shot it for recreation so much that the barrel is shot out. I wanted to know if you can rebarrel it for me and install the rib back on a new .260 barrel? I have purchased two model seven's in recent years but I still want to hunt with the model 600 and pass it down to my son. How much would the barrel replacement cost? If a .260 barrel cannot be installed please advise what calibers are available.
