

Remington mod 700

Discussion Thread

Response (Chris)
Dear Chris,

1/12/2004 1:02:44 PM

Thank you for contacting Remington Country. According to the serial number, his Model 700 was produced in 1968. His firearm has not been involved in a recall. His rifle was originally installed with a bolt-lock, which means you have to put the safety switch on fire before you can open the bolt. We are offering a conversion at a special price if you would like his firearm converted, so that you can open the bolt at anytime with the safety on safe. To view more details regarding this modification, go to:

http://www.remington.com/safety\_Modification\_Program/remington\_safety.htm

Customer (Chris Maher)

1/7/2004 2:21:16 AM

Just got an old Remington Mod. 700 from my father who stated he once had a problem with it accidentally discharging while out on a hunt. He further stated after that he had read an article in a mag. which stated these guns were doing that and there was a recall on them. I do not want to take the gun out to use it until it is in proper working order. If a ser. # would help it is as follows: 320413 and shoots a .243 Winchester round. Any info regarding this gun, past problems with the model or its recall, would be a great help. Thank you, Chris