

BDL rifle

Discussion Thread

Response (Brian)

1/7/2005 2:09:58 PM

Dear Mr. Bullock,

Thank you for your inquiry and support of Remington products. Model 700's made prior to 1982 had a bolt lock that would not allow you to operate the bolt unless the safety was in the fire position. All rifles made since then will allow you to operate the bolt in the safe or fire position, so yes that would be perfectly normal.

Customer (Jimmy Bullock)

12/31/2004 4:56:36 PM

Purchase a 22/250 BDL rifle when you lock the bolt and put the safety on you can still work the bolt like the safety is off. Is this normal? The other 700 BDL I own the bolt will not work when the safety is on.