Dear Josh,

Welcome to Remington Country!

The Remington Model Mohawk 600 was introduced in 1972 and discontinued in 1979. This model was offered to dealers at discount prices and was not a catalog item. This model was offered in .222 Remington, 6mm Remington, .243 Win., and .308 Win.

The Model 600 Mohawk did experience a call-back within the production period. For further information, please click below:

As with any used firearm, we would strongly recommend you have the firearm serviced and evaluated by a competent gunsmith for function and safety. We feel it is imperative you know the exact condition of your firearm prior to shooting. Please also read our "Guide to Buying a Used Gun" found through the link below:

You can also find owner's manuals for some of our current models on-line in our Reading Room in the "What's New" Section.

If you have further questions or concerns, please call our Consumer Service Department at 800-243-9700, Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m., EST. Please have the serial number of your firearm available.

Thank you for your inquiry.

Is the 600 Mohawk bolt-action rifle still in production. Also was this gun recalled?
