Dear Ralf:

Thank you for visiting Remington Country. According to the information that you provided, your Remington Model 700 was produced in or around 1963. We do not have production totals for specific calibers. The Model 700 was introduced in 1962 and is still in production today. This model is widely recognized as the "most accurate out of the box production rifle" on the market today. We would suggest that you review the information found on our homepage in the Safety Center entitled "Bolt Action Safety Message: Safety Modification Program for certain pre-1982 rifles".

As with any used firearm, we would strongly recommend you have the firearm serviced and evaluated by a competent gunsmith for function and safety. We feel it is imperative you know the exact condition of your firearm prior to shooting. Please review our "Safety" section at the following link.

If you are not aware of a gunsmith in your area, please feel free to contact one of our RARC's found in the Support/Repair section of our website or the following link:

If you will complete the form located through the link below we will forward to you a copy of the original owner's manual.

You can request older obsolete model manuals in the "Request a Catalog" section of the site.

Due to the many variables involved with valuation, we would encourage you to refer to the many publications that are available on the subject of gun values or have it appraised by a collector. Many of these books are available through public libraries or local bookstores. For your convenience we have provided a listing of the more popular books:

Thank you for visiting Remington Country and for your comments. We still have a full line of knives that are produced in the USA but those are sold at a different, higher price point than those we import. In order to remain competitive with other's products we offer this lower priced line of knives so we can have a product for the buyer that cannot afford our more expensive products but is loyal to the Remington brand.

I own a 700 BDL, .308 Cal, with a serial number of:
66280. No prefix or suffix. Can you tell me what year/month this rifle was made?

Thank you
