Hi Fred,

I just spoke to this guy on the phone. He said he will not send his rifle in because he has now installed an aftermarket trigger. He is sending in the Remington sears that sheered off. He said to ignore the Ed Brown sear comment. He put that on a different gun.

He is sending you a letter, the sears and a bill for the replacement of the sear. Just a heads up for ya!

each time the sear broke with no warning! The rifle discharged the first time, as I was closing the bolt. Almost making my friend and myself dep. As a result of this malfunction I had the rifle (which is less than 2 years old) repaired by my local gunsmith. (TJ gunsmithing)Thinking this accuracy was only a farce. He replaced the damaged sear with a Ed Brown Stainless Steel sear. Then today, (less than 1 month after the first sear broke)while rotating from safe to fire the rifle discharged again. sending a round wildly off target. Now sometimes the rifle fires as bolt is being closed or as safe is moved from safe to fire. Please help me solve this problem rifle away before I lose all confidence in this rifle.

P.S. The following modifications have been made to this rifle. 1= Kick ees pad , mosal brake, ziess scope and rings, trigger adjustment 3 1/2 lds
