

JOHN LOSCHIN

From: O'Steen, Norma
Sent: 01/02/2002 11:23:19 AM
To: Loschin, John
CC:
BCC:
Subject: Remington Model 700 Rifle - InjuryBoard.com

SITE SEARCH

SITE CONTENTS

- Home
- Injuries
- Causes of Injuries
- Recalls
- News Library
- Know the Law
- Ask an Attorney
- Contact
- About InjuryBoard
- Our Attorneys
- Privacy Statement
- Disclaimer
- Terms of Use

NEWSLETTER

Receive email alerts about defective or dangerous products to help protect your family and friends.

What Cause would you like to learn more about?

Please select a cause: Airlines, Cruises, Buses & Other Mass Transit, Automobile & Motorcycle Accidents, Defective & Dangerous Products, Doctors, Hospitals, Nurses & Managed Care, Drugs, Medical Devices & Implants, Government Negligence, Nursing Home & Daycare Abuse, Police Misconduct & Inmate Abuse, Property Owners' Liability, Toxic & Hazardous Substances, Violence, Workplace Injuries & Discrimination

Home > Causes > Defective & Dangerous Products > Sporting Goods >

Remington Model 700 Rifle

If you or a family member have been injured by Remington Model 700 Rifle, Contact an Attorney today. Just fill out InjuryBoard.com's On-line Questionnaire and have an attorney evaluate your case within two (2) business days - free of charge.

Need More?

> Ask an Attorney

Without much publicity, Remington has settled dozens of lawsuits arising from defects in its Model 700 Rifle. Many of these lawsuits blamed the gun's unusual safety and trigger mechanism, which could "trick" the weapon into firing without pulling the trigger.

A recent story by CBS News highlighted the Model 700's problem. The story chronicled the tragedy of a Montana family. Barb Barber accidentally shot her son in the stomach when her Model 700 rifle misfired. She simply pulled the gun's safety mechanism off and the gun unexpectedly discharged, killing her young son Gus.

A 1979 internal Remington corporate memo acknowledged that approximately 1% of the nearly 2 million Model 700 rifles could unexpectedly misfire.

If you or a loved one have been injured or killed by a Remington 700 or any other defective weapon, it may be important to contact an attorney who can help you protect your legal rights. Please keep in mind that there may be time limits within which you must commence suit.

Attorneys associated with InjuryBoard.com will evaluate your case free of charge. In addition, you will not pay any fees or costs unless your attorney recovers money for you. Please click on the free Ask An Attorney button to take advantage of this valuable service.

NOTE: The information provided herein should not be used for diagnosis or treatment of any medical condition. A licensed physician should be consulted for diagnosis and treatment of any and all medical conditions.

Related Injuries

> Skin Disorders

> Wounds

All contents copyright © 2001 - Patent Pending - Claris Law, Inc.