deferred from the experience. The sears were replaced with new trigger assembly. the problem
with the gun at present is the shell left does not work. This is not the first Remington 700
we have had this problem with sears as though the guns are not being inspected
before leaving the plant.
If they were, the accident of discharge would not have happened
