

Dear Sir,

I'm mailing my rifle back because I was on a hunting trip. I fired the rifle at a deer killing him in his tracks, so I bolted the gun slowly. This was my 5th deer for this season. I was not excited. The rifle picked up a live cartridge and then would not go on the safe position, so I lifted the bolt arm up & then it went to the safe position, then decided to check and see if it was jammed in the safe position. I had the rifle laying in my lap, when I pushed the safety forward, the rifle went off shooting down the stand line toward the other hunters. Now when you push the safety forward it goes off anytime. It could have killed someone, it could have been tragic. The rifle is still under
