Dear Sir

I recently purchased a new Remington 370 model 700 ADL and was quite disappointed to find while hunting this year the safety locked up and was unable to get it off safety. While trying I cut my thumb quite deep into the meat on the safety. I have also gotten the rifle to discharge by it self by forcing the safety off. I feel this gun is totally unsafe for the young hunter it was purchased for aged 14. What can be done to restore this gun to a safe condition? This is the first time we have had a Remington fail on us.

We now have

760 ADL - 3006
760 BDL - 30-06
700 ADL - 22-250
700 ADL - 7 MM mag

Have had

700 ADL - 243 - 700 ADL 7 MM mag
870 12 ga.

Thank you
Frances Sharbono
