Dear Sir;

I watched 60 minutes tonight and was surprised to hear about the Model 700. When releasing the safety the gun will fire -

I have one of these. It's a M-721 which I bought in 1958 as a .300 H+H at that time - since then I had the original barrel re-chambered & 10 yrs ago bought a new barrel - Plus a new stock was put on in 1959.

When I first start using it - way back when - I had the rifle fire when releasing the safety. and it has done that when no round was in the chamber -

But since the first time - I never have trusted the safety & never use it - as I have taught my two boys & wife never to use the safety on their rifle. Just keep a cartridge out of the chamber unless you plan on shooting -

I've shot many - antelope - deer - Elk + moose + could never think of not using my old rifle - or getting a new one -

However - this 60 minutes reminded me of my safety & I'd thought I'd just let you know —

Love Lou
