Atten: Personal and Parts,

I own a Remington rifle, model 700, .30-.06. About a year ago I had an accident with the rifle that was not my fault. The trigger would go off every time the bolt action was closed, then sometimes it would not. The first time this happened, though, the gun was loaded, almost taking my life, I was unloading at the time. Needless to say, my family was very upset. I found out this model was recalled for this very problem and that a Lawyer was shot because of this defect. I used to have all the confidence with this gun, it shot great, but now I am afraid to touch it. I was very upset at the time and tried to get it fixed at several places but no one would touch it. When I found out that I had to send it back in order to get it fixed I was frustrated. Now I would just like my rifle fixed or replaced so I can continue to enjoy hunting without being afraid of the gun I am using. I would appreciate it if my rifle was looked after as soon as possible. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated.

Concerned hunter,
