

12/28/95

Dear Jack Kast;

Enclosed are the box of Remington shells that the last shell was taken from. I wanted to send the shells with the rifle in the first place, but Remington Arms Corp. only wanted to see the rifle at that time.

On your report # 95-29675 the damage was caused by Hi-pressure from the shell. As you will see I only use Remington shells and I have never used reloads in the 270,

What bothers me is that Remington is suppose to be one of the best guns sold and that they will last you a lifetime. As you could see the rifle I returned was not abused or mistreated.

I feel that Remington should back the rifle 100%, since one of the Remington products were at fault.

Sincerely;

Ralph G. Guebel
