Dear Sir:

I have a Model 700LH Serial #B6588971. This year the safety on the gun jammed on me twice. The first time I didn't think anything of it. The second time it scared me because after you take the safety off and go to fire it it seems like the safety is off. You pull the trigger and nothing happens. However, within 2-3 seconds after you take your finger off the trigger the gun goes off by itself.

A friend of mine told me there is a recall on these guns. He told me he saw a special on TV where people were shooting their feet off with them. I could see very easily how that would happen. Is there any truth to this? If there was a recall, why wasn't I notified? I did purchase the gun new.
