

Dear Remington Arms Co.,

Towards the middle of hunting season last year, I noticed that I was beginning to have trigger problems with my .243. I decided that at the end of the season I would send it to you to be fixed.

During my last hunt, I had my sight on a beautiful buck and the trigger was as solid as a rock. The trigger would not pull. After squeezing the trigger for a while, the trigger started to glide. The deer was then out of sight. So I proceeded to put the gun on safety and it fired. I feel that this could have been fatal.

Although I am sending this gun close to deer season, I would really appreciate it if I could get it back as soon as possible. If it does not look promising, please reply. I have enclosed my home address.

Thanks for your consideration,

Stephen S. Mickey
