I have a Remington 30-06, model 700, serial # 6560395 rifle.

Last deer season the rifle discharged on its own.

I was hunting in a light snow and the temperature was about 10°F. A deer came through and I pulled up and tried to shoot, but the rifle would not fire. I chambered the rifle three times, but it would not fire. I lowered the rifle to my side and slowly chambered the fourth round and the gun went off by its self without touching the trigger.

I have not had any trouble since and have fired many rounds at the range.

Can you tell me if there is anything I should be doing to keep the rifle from doing it again.

Sincerely
Jeffrey D. Patton
