

to Lock's Philadelphia Gun Exchange. They then checked it out and said that the bolt need to be cleaned. They then cleaned the bolt and said it was "gummed up".

While hunting of the same year, I again was loading the Rifle and as I closed the bolt the rifle discharged again.

I put the gun away until after hunting season.

I returned it to Lock's and this time they could find nothing wrong with it.

I'm sad to say that I have not used the rifle because I'm afraid of some one getting hurt because of the gun going off on it own.
