Good Morning,

I own a Remington 700 precision rifle which I purchased new about 5 years ago. I have fired about 500 rounds through it and last week when I cycled the bolt forward at the range, a round fired without the trigger being pulled. Do you have a list of recommended gun repair businesses in the California Bay Area you can refer me to have this checked/repared or should I send the rifle back to your facility for service?

Any recommendations are appreciated.
