RE: My client: Guy Taylor
Reference No.: 9553

Dear Mr. Irving:

I have recently been consulted by Guy Taylor regarding his complaint and injury resulting from the accidental firing of his Model 700 Remington Rifle. Mr. Taylor communicated with you and advised you that he owned a Model 700 Remington Rifle bearing serial number B6793336 and that on or about November 22, 2013, this firearm accidentally fired absent a trigger pull. This accidental firing resulted in a rather significant cut and bruising to the left side of Mr. Taylor's right thumb. I enclose pictures documenting the injury and the sutures which were required to close the wound. A copy of his medical bill for this injury is also enclosed.

As a result of this accidental firing, Mr. Taylor had to receive medical care on November 22nd for the laceration. His total medical expenses are $314.00. Additionally, he lost $1150.00 in lost wages. He is a self employed artisan in this area.

Mr. Taylor also advises me that he has lost a significant amount of the feeling on the left side of his right thumb. This problem continues and he can only assume it is permanent.

In researching this matter, both Mr. Taylor and myself are well aware of the extensive claims made against Remington for the misfiring of the 700 Bolt Action Rifle and are further aware of the litigation involving this. We are also knowledgeable that there has not been a recall of this rifle.

Obviously, my office does not intend to litigate this matter due to the expense and the expertise necessary to properly file the action. However, I have made some preliminary inquiry with a national law firm that has handled several of these claims and has the experts necessary to properly litigate these issues.

However, before proceeding in this manner and advising Mr. Taylor to pursue his claim, I advised him that I would write a letter to you in an attempt to resolve his claim without unnecessary expense and time being involved.

If there is any desire on behalf of your company to negotiate a resolution to this claim prior to referral of Mr. Taylor to another law firm, please advise me. Otherwise, I will make the referral as contemplated in this letter. Both Mr. Taylor and myself realize that he was very fortunate in this accidental misfiring and I believe that he would be reasonable in attempting to compromise the claim.

Very truly yours,

SCYPHERS & AUSTIN, P. C.
