In reply to: accidental discharge

John Rodgers Remington Arms Custom Shop 14 Hoefling Avenue Ilion, New York

Dear John Rodgers,

I am writing in regards to the enclosed Remington 700 police rifle and an accidental discharge that occurred on November 8, 1997. While at the range during a demonstration, I had three rounds in the weapon, and believed that firing had concluded for the day. I opened the bolt and took out the round that had been in chamber, when I was told to fire one more round. I closed the bolt on the remaining two rounds, which seated properly. I pushed the bolt handle down with the palm of my right hand, without my fingers or any debris entering the trigger guard or reaching the trigger. When I firmly closed the bolt home and pushed the bolt handle to its locked position, a round was discharged. The weapon, of course, was in the fire, not safe, mode. After firing my round, I secured the weapon and placed it in a safe condition, leaving my shooting area.

Afterwards, several students were given the opportunity to fire the rifle, shooting approximately 40 rounds through the weapon. No further incidents occurred. I have fired approximately 2,000 rounds in the rifle and have had it in my sole possession since my department purchased it new. I lubricate it only with RemOil and clean it only with RemClean.

Any assistance you can give in the repair of this rifle would be very much appreciated. Should you need to reach me, my office telephone number is (804) 672-5192, and our fax number is (804) 672-5299.

Sincerely,

Officer D.L. Lambert
