

REBARRELING

BLUING

RESTOCKING

BALDWIN GUN SHOP

GENERAL GUNSMITHING - SCOPE AND SIGHT MOUNTING

ROUTE 1

BUFFALO, WYOMING

G. B. BALDWIN

A-18-63

Remington Arms Co Inc.
Alton N.Y.

Gentlemen: I have one of your

221 Fireball Pistols. I believe your description of it says the action is held solid in the stock. This one rests only on the end of the lug on bottom of receiver and by taking the end of forearm in one hand and end of barrel in the other there is considerable play between them. And I find there is a plastic washer between the end of the lug and the ~~stock~~ atock where the lug rests. As this pistol supposed to bobble around on the end of the lug like that? If so, I would like to know ~~at~~ how it can shoot straight

REBARRELING

BLUING

RESTOCKING

BALDWIN GUN SHOP

GENERAL GUNSMITHING - SCOPE AND SIGHT MOUNTING

ROUTE 1

BUFFALO, WYOMING

I can easily let it down solid in the stock. I have not shot it yet to test it. I have been in the gun shop work for 16½ years and I find that I can still learn a lot.

So please advise as to the above

Respectfully G. B. Baldwin