M/700 BOLT HANDLE

Above item was included in discussion at Steering Committee Meeting today. Understand that Ruger's casting man has provided Bill Schrader with a quotation that appears to be in line. However, also understand that upon questioning it was stated they would plan on filling any porosity by welding and then free hand grinding and polishing.

Plant Engineers feel this is same procedure which got us in trouble with Hitchener. Questioned the risk. In the meantime Ray Carr expects to be getting you some of the formed bolt handles for test within the next day.
