Dear Mr. Miller:

In reply to your letter of August 13, 1979 concerning the reliability of the M/700 extractor, we at Remington feel that when properly installed and cared for our extractor can and will function adequately in any situation.

Without going into great detail about competitive testing we have found our clip type extractor to be stronger than either of our closest competitors.

I would not hesitate to hunt Grizzly bear or any other dangerous game with a M/700.

I hope that I have been able to restore your faith in your Remington rifle. If you have any other questions please feel free to write.

Very truly yours,
