SUBJECT: MODEL 700 BDL FRONT SIGHT BASE

We have discussed with Marketing the suggested proposal to ad-use the Model 700 BDL slotted front sight base on the ADL model. The suggestion was PA-227 and would allow for a $1,390 annual savings.

Marketing felt at this time the slotted base which allows for a hood is part of the product differentiation between the two models. They prefer to retain this for the present. They also mentioned that this may not be a problem in the future with the new bolt action strategy, as the present proposals are for elimination of sights from both models.
