The rough out - outline of the test I had in mind was based on David F. chart for DA testing. All testing ammo. was 30-06 (varying bullet weights).

Physical Meas.

Regain Test
 Trigger pull Test
 Lock time

|                    |                     |
|--------------------|---------------------|
| Accuracy           | 9K                  |
| Endurance          | 3K -5K ea. (30,000) |
| Field cy/bolt vel. | (200 ea.) 1.2K      |
| Intentional abuse  | (60 ea.) 360 rds.   |
| Drop               |                     |
| Slam               |                     |
| Rotational         |                     |
| Jar-off            |                     |

TOTAL = 40,596 rds

When you have time please, give me some feed back on the outline for a competitive test.

Ammo needs might be a little low - we should probably rough out the test and order ammo based on that.

Men: Please, look over the following note to J. Snedeker for the competitive analysis for the M/710. We can discuss the test in detail later, but are the guns / ammo/ qty(s) /general testing ... etc., what we had in mind?
