Ken,

Per your earlier email. Sorry you weren't copied on this link.

Also, per the status email sent last week, we're in a holding pattern for Bushmaster until we have access to digital assets. It won't be part of the completed sections for the current April 15 launch date. Also, for the April 15 launch, the reward driven backend won't be operational, but all Marlin tutorials will be.

Please give me a call with any questions.

Eric

Al and Danny,

Below is a link to the Marlin Online Training sample of the XL-7 Bolt Action section for your review. We are proceeding with the other sections, which will be posted Friday of next week (3/28).

Eric and I would like to call you on Tuesday of next week to discuss incorporating H&R/NEF within the Marlin training site. Please let us know if that day works for both of you, and what time best fits your schedule.
