Revised economics (attached) were presented by the Treasurer's Department. Since the schedules on which they were based were considerably lower than those used previously, the returns were not so attractive. The Sales Department requested time to study this report in detail.

The Plant was requested to provide a breakdown of the investment, and this will be distributed to members as soon as it is available.

Because of the reduced return, the possibility exists that introduction of these guns will not be recommended at the present time. Therefore, the question was raised whether R&D should continue its present effort or should stop until a decision
