FIREARMS

SHOTGUNS

XS-6 SHOTGUN

The Committee agreed that this item should be designated the XS-7 shotgun since it is a modified version of the XS-6 having optional three or five-shot capacity magazines.

The Research & Development Department reports that design is proceeding concurrently with design of the XC-6 center fire rifle; a shooting model is expected to be available about mid-1960.

Development has been keyed for introduction in 1962.
